The Journal of General Psychology, 120(4), 531–534

Index to Volume 120

This annual index is organized by first author and by title. Page numbers refer to the following issues:

Number 1 (January): 1–84
Number 2 (April): 85–188
Number 3 (July): 189–408
Number 4 (October): 411–534

AUTHOR INDEX

Baker, M. A., & Holding, D. H. The effects of noise and speech on cognitive task performance. 339–355.

Boon, J. C. W., & Davies, G. M. The influence of biographical information on event memory: When it's not what you know but whom you know. 517–530.

Bruce, A. J., & McDonald, B. G. Face recognition as a function of judgments of likability/unlikability. 451–462.

Crawford, M. L. J., & Harwerth, R. S., Smith, E. L., & von Noorden, G. K. Keeping an eye on the brain: The role of visual experience in monkeys and children. 7–19.

Dange, A., & Warm, J. S., Weiler, E. M., & Dember, W. N. Loudness adaptation: Resolution of a psychophysical enigma. 217–243.

Dittmar, M. L., Warm, J. S., Dember, W. N., & Ricks, D. F. Sex differences in vigilance performance and perceived workload. 309–322.

Egan, V., & Deary, I. J. Does perceptual intake speed reflect intelligent use of feedback in an inspection-time task? The effect of restricted feedback. 123–137.

Ferraro, F. R., & Chastain, G. Letter detection in multiple-meaning words: One lexical entry or two? 437–450.

Fuste, A., & Vidal, J. Antibody response to rat erythrocytes and some behaviors in two strains of mice after social isolation. 165–176.

Gluckman, J. P., Warm, J. S., Dember, W. N., & Rosa, R. R. Demand transitions and sustained attention. 323–337.

Hancock, P. A. Body temperature influence on time perception. 197–215.

Hartman, S. J., Lundberg, O., & White, M. The processing of information by students and business planners. 421–435.

Hines, D. Effect of masked picture primes on semantic priming for easy- and difficult-to-name words. 149–165.

Holding, D. H. Sharing verbal and visuospatial resources in working memory. 245–256.

Johns, J. M., Walters, P.A., & Zimmerman, L. I. The effects of chronic prenatal exposure to nicotine on the behavior of guinea pigs (Cavia porcellus). 49–63.

Jung, J. The relationship of worrying, coping, and symptoms among college men and women. 139–148.

Kyllonen, P. C. Aptitude testing inspired by information processing: A test of the four-sources model. 375–405.
Lambert, K. G. The activity-stress paradigm: Possible mechanisms and applications. 21–32.
Landau, J. D., Otani, H., & Libkuman, T. M. Locus of control and implicit memory. 499–507.
Landrum, R. E. Sensitivity of implicit memory to input processing and the Zeigarnik effect. 91–98.
Lester, D. Functional and dysfunctional impulsivity and depression and suicidal ideation in a subclinical population. 187–188.
McClure, J., Jaspars, J., & Lalljee, M. Discounting attributions and multiple determinants. 99–122.
Morgan, B. B., Salas, E., & Glickman, A. S. An analysis of team evolution and maturation. 277–291.
O'Connor, M. E. Psychological studies in nonionizing electromagnetic energy research. 33–47.
Pierce, S., & Lange, G. Instructing young children in the use of memorizing strategies: Effects at study and recall. 473–487.
Puente, A. E. Sperry's emergent interactionism as a new explanation for dualism. 65–72.
Reinhardt-Rutland, A. H. Detecting slant-in-depth of real trapezoidal and rectangular surfaces: Moving-monocular viewing equivalent to stationary-binocular viewing. 177–185.
Scerbo, M. W., Greenwald, C. Q., & Sawin, D. A. The effects of subject-controlled pacing and task type on sustained attention and subjective workload. 293–307.
Singh, I. L., Molloy, R., & Parasuraman, R. Individual differences in monitoring failures of automation. 357–373.
Starnes, W. R., & Loeb, R. C. Locus of control differences in memory recall strategies when confronted with noise. 463–471.
Stone, N. J., & Irvine, J. M. Performance, mood, satisfaction, and task type in various work environments: A preliminary study. 487–495.
Taylor, H. L., Lintern, G., & Koonce, J. M. Quasi-transfer as a predictor of transfer from simulator to airplane. 257–276.
Thomas, R. K., & Young, C. D. A note on the early history of electrical stimulation of the human brain. 73–81.
Wuensch, K. L. Cross-species fostering affects meat preferences of wild house mice. 413–419.
Zimmerman, D. W. Mimicking properties of nonparametric rank tests using scores that are not rank. 509–516.

TITLE INDEX

The activity-stress paradigm: Possible mechanisms and applications. Kelly Gurley Lambert. 21–32.
An analysis of team evolution and maturation. Ben B. Morgan, Jr., Eduardo Salas, & Albert S. Glickman. 277–291.
Antibody response to rat erythrocytes and some behaviors in two strains of mice after social isolation. Adela Fuste & Jośe Vidal. 165–176.
Aptitude testing inspired by information processing: A test of the four-sources model. Patrick C. Kyllonen. 375–405.
Body temperature influence on time perception. P. A. Hancock. 197–215.
Cross-species fostering affects meat preferences of wild house mice. Karl L. Wuensch. 413–419.
Demand transitions and sustained attention. Jonathan P. Gluckman, Joel S. Warm, William N. Dember, & Roger R. Rosa. 323–337.
Detecting slant-in-depth of real trapezoidal and rectangular surfaces: Moving-monocular viewing equivalent to stationary-binocular viewing. A. H. Reinhardt-Rutland. 177–185.

Discounting attributions and multiple determinants. John McClure, Jos Jaspars, & Mansur Lalljee. 99–122.
Does perceptual intake speed reflect intelligent use of feedback in an inspection-time task? The effect of restricted feedback. Vincent Egan & Ian J. Deary. 123–137.
Effect of masked picture primes on semantic priming for easy- and difficult-to-name words. David Hines. 149–165.
The effects of chronic prenatal exposure to nicotine on the behavior of guinea pigs (Cavia porcellus). Josephine M. Johns, Paul A. Walters, & Laura I. Zimmerman. 49–63.
The effects of noise and speech on cognitive task performance. Mary Anne Baker & Dennis H. Holding. 339–355.
The effects of subject-controlled pacing and task type on sustained attention and subjective workload. Mark W. Scerbo, Catherine Q. Greenwald, & David A. Sawin. 293–307.
Face recognition as a function of judgments of likability/unlikability. A. Jerry Bruce & Brian G. McDonald. 451–462.
Functional and dysfunctional impulsivity and depression and suicidal ideation in a subclinical population. David Lester. 187–188.
Individual differences in monitoring failures of automation. Indramani L. Singh, Robert Molloy, & Raja Parasuraman. 357–373.
The influence of biographical information on event memory: When it's not what you know but whom you know. Julian C. W. Boon & Graham M. Davies. 517–530.
Instructing young children in the use of memorizing strategies: Effects at study and recall. Sarah Pierce & Garrett Lange. 473–487.
Keeping an eye on the brain: The role of visual experience in monkeys and children. M. L. J. Crawford, R. S. Harwerth, E.L. Smith, & G.K. von Noorden. 7–19.
Letter detection In multiple-meaning words: One lexical entry or two? F. Richard Ferraro & Garvin Chastain. 437–450.
Locus of control and implicit memory. Josh D. Landau, Hajime Otani, & Terry M. Libkuman. 499–507.
Locus of control differences in memory recall strategies when confronted with noise. William R. Starnes & Roger C. Loeb. 463–471.
Loudness adaptation: Resolution of a psychophysical enigma. Anjali Dange, Joel S. Warm, Ernest M. Weiler, William N. Dember. 217–243.
Mimicking properties of nonparametric rank tests using scores that are not rank. Donald W. Zimmerman. 509–516.
A note on the early history of electrical stimulation of the human brain. Roger K. Thomas & Cheryl Donaldson Young. 73–81.
Performance, mood, satisfaction, and task type in various work environments: A preliminary study. Nancy J. Stone & Joanne M. Irvine. 487–495.
The processing of information by students and business planners. Sandra J. Hartman, Olof Lundberg, & Michael White. 421–435.
Psychological studies in nonionizing electromagnetic energy research. Mary Ellen O'Connor. 33–47.
Quasi-transfer as a predictor of transfer from simulator to airplane. Henry L. Taylor, Gavan Lintern, & Jefferson M. Koonce. 257–276.
The relationship of worrying, coping, and symptoms among college men and women. John Jung. 139–148.
Sensitivity of implicit memory to input processing and the Zeigarnik Effect. R. Eric Landrum. 91–98.
Sex differences in vigilance performance and perceived workload. Mary Lynne Dittmar, Joel S. Warm, William N. Dember, & David F. Ricks. 309–322.

Sharing verbal and visuospatial resources in working memory. Dennis H. Holding. 245–256.
Sperry's emergent interactionism as a new explanation for dualism. Antonio E. Puente. 65–72.
